PROJECTS

PVT-MiniUNet: A Lightweight Transformer for Colon Polyp Segmentation

- Developed a lightweight segmentation framework using Pyramid Vision Transformer (PVTv2-B2) encoder with a Mini-UNet decoder, along with CIM and CFM modules for precise polyp boundary detection.
- Achieved Dice score of 0.9550 and IoU of 0.9158 on Kvasir-SEG dataset, outperforming baseline Polyp-PVT while retaining efficiency for real-time deployment.

Ensemble and Attention Mechanisms for Fine-Grained Image Recognition 🔗 Published Paper

- Developed a novel ensemble framework integrating EfficientNet-B0, DenseNet-121, and ResNet-152 augmented with CBAM, enabling the model to precisely focus on subtle discriminative regions and handle challenges like high intra class variation and fine grained details.
- Achieved a state-of-the-art 94.25% accuracy on the CUB-200-2011 dataset outperforming ViT and API-Net; published in CRM 2025 (Scopus Indexed), demonstrating strong research contribution and real-world applicability.
